Dear Mr. East:

The Central Intelligence Agency cannot concur in declassification of the enclosed OSS and SSU documents transmitted with your memorandum of 9 July 1963. The documents have been reviewed at the highest levels of immediate concern, and I regret that your request must be denied on the ground that, along with other valid reasons, declassification and release at this time would not be in the best interests of the United States Government.

Sincerely yours,

CIA Records Administration Officer

The National Archives has received requests for the Interrogation Reports of the Art Looting Investigation Unit, OSS, and the Strategic Services Unit, Office of the Assistant Secretary of War. Some of these reports were forwarded by the Department of State to your office in 1959, with a request for declassification. At that time CIA consensus was not favorable toward declassification and release. In view of the current interest in the subject of art looting and the lapse of time from the last review, we request reconsideration of the previous action on the reports transmitted with this letter.

The latest regrading action of the Department of the Army on Consolidated Report No. 4, Linz is reflected on that document and in The Adjutant General's letter of May 2, 1963, copy enclosed. It appears that the Army will take review and regrading action only on Strategic Services Unit documents produced after October 1, 1945.

Sincerely yours,

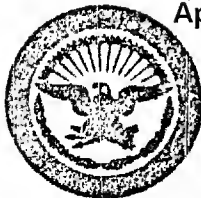

Sherrod East
Director, World War II Records
Division

Dear Mr. East:

Reference is made to your request for a declassification review of Cir #4 - Lins.

With two exceptions this record has now been regraded UNCLASSIFIED.
The exceptions are Page 34, which is missing, and one of the attachments, which is an OSS document. The Army does not have unilateral authority to declassify this OSS document but it has no objections to its declassification.

In connection with propriety of release your attention is invited to the following pages which contain allegations against individuals.

Page 53 - (5) 2nd paragraph - last two lines

The entire document remains classified CONFIDENTIAL because of the retention of the classification on the OSS document. However, with its deletion the balance of the document is UNCLASSIFIED.

Sincerely yours,
